Mr. William Rees-Mogg
The Times
London

Dear Mr. Rees-Mogg,

Though I have no idea what the prospects are of THE TIMES re-appearing in the reasonably near future, I would like you to see the enclosed draft of an article which I should wish first to offer to you, though its topical character would make me reluctant to postpone publication indefinitely. My alternative would be the Daily Telegraph if they will take it. Could you let me know whether and when you think that you might be able to publish it. I will in the meantime endeavour to polish it further. Of course I should be most grateful for any comments and suggestions for improvement.

Very sincerely yours,

F.A. Hayek

P.S. I will be in the U.S. February 8 - 20.
