THE PRIME MINISTER

21.9.92

Your Majesty,

I write to thank you most warmly for according me and my husband the honour of an audience yesterday and for so graciously entertaining us at luncheon afterwards.

It gave me enormous pleasure to renew my acquaintance with Your Majesty and I greatly enjoyed the conversation which we were able to have.

I shall treasure forever the memory of the delightful luncheon arrangements.

I hope and believe that my visit has helped to strengthen Anglo-Japanese relations, to the advancement of which Your Majesty has devoted so much care and attention.

My husband joins me in wishing Your Majesty, and all the members of the Royal Family, the greatest health and happiness.

With my humble respects

Margaret Thatcher

His Majesty The Emperor Hirohito
