PRIME MINISTER

Dame Margery Corbett-Ashby's Memorial Lecture:
26 July

The Research Department have been asked to do some work for you on this speech. The title they have been given is "Women in Politics", but we can be flexible on this. They would like some guidance from you as to whether you would like to proceed with this title, and therefore the work associated with it, or whether you would rather a title such as "Women in ^{Public} Political Life", which would give them a broader spectrum. You could then talk about values in society which obviously include women.

Can I have some guidance please.

PRIME MINISTER

DAME MARGERY CORBETT ASHBY MEMORIAL LECTURE: MONDAY 26 JULY

This will be a major speech. You are asked to speak on a non-Party subject and they suggest something like "Women in Politics".

I think we should soon be asking someone to give this subject some thought. Would either Lady Young, Patricia Hodgson or Lady Pike be a good idea?

~~to be~~

It will need a good deal of research. Someone from Con. Research could do this.
