PRIME MINISTER

THREE WISE MEN

The Three Wise Men (Mr. Edmund Dell, Baron Biescheuvel, and Monsieur Marjolin) are charged by the European Council to look into the implications of enlargement for the EEC and, in doing so, to consult all the Nine Heads of Government. Mainly because of the Election, they have not yet been able to carry out their remit so far as the UK is concerned. I think it is important that you should see them. If you can agree to do so, a possible time would be 1015 on Monday, 16 July.

Would you ask Richard to find the previous correspondence? I think it should now be dealt with by Lord Carrington.
