PRIME MINISTER

Bernard Ingham 'phoned in this evening with the following message:-

"The Daily Star has a MORI poll out tomorrow. It will show a Conservative lead of 7% compared with 14% on the previous occasion. The figures are: 44/37/17 (Alliance), others 2%. Previous figures: 49/35/15.

Part of the reason for the substantial increase, as usually occurs once the campaign gets underway, is an increase in the number of undecided."
