Although Professor Peter Hall, author of the attached paper is or was a Socialist (years ago he edited "Labour's New Frontiers"), I hope you will agree that there are many provocative and useful thoughts in the enclosed copy of a lecture which he recently made.

He is clearly mindful of the importance of markets and of services in addition to manufacturing industry and arrives, at the foot of page 8, at an approach very similar to the one that I suggested in my recent paper "Liberating Free Enterprise".
